BIRTHS.

The births registered during the year 1871 numbered 20,143, as against 19,648 in the preceding year, being an increase of 495.

The number registered in each of the three divisions of the Colony in proportion to total births registered is as follows :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.	Males. Per cent.	Females. Per cent.
Sydney	1,535	1,445	2,980	7.62	7.17
Suburbs	1,342	1,259	2,601	6.66	6.25

	10,326	9,817	20,143	51.26	48.74

The male births registered exceeded those of female births by 509.

Comparing

Comparing the number of births with those of the previous year (1870), we have the following results :—

	1870.	1871.	Increase. Per cent.
Sydney.....	2,909	2,980	2.44
Suburbs	2,546	2,601	2.16
Country	14,193	14,562	2.60
	19,648	20,143	2.52

Taking the estimated population at the middle of the last six years, the ratio of births per 1,000 is as follows :— Comparison with 1870.

1866.	1867.	1868.	1869.	1870.	1871.
40.38	41.73	40.50	40.46	39.80	39.57

Therefore, the number of births registered in 1871 was below the mean of the five preceding years by 1.00 per 1000.

The Table which now follows, marked D, gives a decennial return of births registered during each quarter.

Comparing

Comparing the deaths of the year with those of the previous year, the following will be the result :—

	1870.	1871.	Increase.	Decrease.
Sydney	1,492	1,583	91
Suburbs	790	883	93

The month of December appears to take the first place in the records of mortality, the average number of deaths being 169, and the mean temperature 69°5. September shows the number of deaths to be 107, with a mean temperature of 58°8, and is the month in which there are the least number of deaths.

In concluding this Report, I have to call attention to the question of inspection, which, I think, is required in order to ensure accurate returns. There are now between 90 and 100 Registrars in the Colony, on whom devolves the duty of making correct entries in the Registers and furnishing me with quarterly returns. I would suggest that the Inspector of Public Accounts might probably be able to render some service in the way of inspection, when he is occupied in a similar capacity on behalf of the Treasury.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

E. G. WARD,

Registrar General.
